

Quality assurance policy

Yoga Scotland monitors and evaluates all its systems, policies and procedures for the delivery of regulated qualifications to ensure they are in line with regulatory General Conditions of Recognition, as published by Ofqual.

Continuous improvement is assured through ongoing monitoring by the Training Sub Committee and through evaluation surveys from graduating students and course participants. By constantly reviewing our courses we can ensure public confidence in the quality of all Yoga Scotland qualifications and ongoing training.

Prompt action is taken to address any weakness identified, and this monitoring forms part of Yoga Scotland's annual self-assessment activities and reviews.

Yoga Scotland will also monitor and evaluate the following to better inform our processes:

- malpractice / maladministration events
- reasonable assessment adjustment and special consideration requests
- the nature and number of enquiries and appeals

Ensuring the standards of our qualifications, courses and ongoing training

Yoga Scotland has a responsibility to all learners undertaking our qualifications, to ensure that we stay in accordance with relevant UK standards.

To ensure we meet these standards, Yoga Scotland has a set, monitored internal and external verification process for its Yoga Teacher Training. Including a monitored internal verification process for all other courses and ongoing training.

Our internal quality assurance systems for Teacher Training are checked and monitored by the external verifiers and re-assessed by ourselves annually.

If you have any queries about the contents of the policy, please contact admin@yogascotland.org.uk